

New date for the SPARK Art Fair Vienna:
June 24 to 27, 2021

Due to developments related to the global pandemic the new fair for contemporary and modern art will be moved from spring to summer. The fair will feature some 85 solo presentations at the Vienna Marx Halle.

The SPARK Art Fair Vienna will be taking place from June 24 to 27 at the Wiener Marx Halle. After carefully assessing the pandemic situation and the related travel restrictions and quarantine rules the organizers decided to move the fair from early May to the end of June.

»We are delighted to see the great interest in our concept and presentation form. With this condensed format and our focus on individual artistic positions our aim is to create a platform for maximum attention in this critical period – for galleries, the artists presented and the public. We are doing our utmost to enable all of us to enjoy art together in Vienna. To ensure the safety and wellbeing of all our visitors we decided to move the spring fair to the beginning of summer,« as Renger van den Heuvel, managing director of SPARK, explains.

The SPARK Studio digital format and the online VIP events will also provide international guests unable to attend the fair with interesting insights and allow them to communicate with galleries and artists. As Renger van Heuvel states: »We have deliberately opted for a balanced mix of a strong regional basis and international orientation. Our focus is thus on galleries from Central Europe, Austria and Vienna. We are committed to promoting the domestic market and want to continue developing this market together with galleries, using this process to generate a global reach.«
